I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

The excitement and the trauma of the Reformation period in Europe extended over two hundred years. Events changed the face of the continent. However, as the period came to an end, Christians emerged with another focus, and it was once again global. Migrations and missions saw them establish their faith around the world. However, intercontinental conditions coupled with emerging attitudes in Europe and the Americas stimulated surprising changes. By the middle of the twentieth century, the centre of Christian life was shifting from the northern hemisphere to the south. This course tracks with these developments and the thought underlying them. Writings from the participants lead students into the fervour of the times.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of the course, students should be able to:

a/ sketch the broad outlines of the development of Christian thought b/ explain the general periods from the Reformations to the early 21st Century
c/ develop an intellectual framework for further historical and theological studies
d/ appreciate and discern the inescapable impact of an author’s setting on the content of her/his writing and the direction of its argument
e/ integrate more readily insights from historical documents into life and ministry f/ communicate ideas more succinctly and clearly than before g/ recognize the dynamism of the Christian tradition in its many forms h/ formulate a global perspective of “the faith once delivered to the saints”
i/ acquire greater respect for a breadth of traditions claiming allegiance to Christ
j/ discover new means to enhance their personal spirituality

NOTE: Outcomes a, b and c relate essentially to intellectual content.
Outcomes d, e and f are connected primarily to historiographical process.
Outcomes g, h, i and j predominantly pertain to issues of spirituality.

III. COURSE REQUIREMENTS

A. REQUIRED TEXTS

1. Justo L. Gonzalez, The Story of Christianity, Vol.2 The Reformation to the Present Day San Francisco: Harper Collins, 1985 (The 2-in-1 volume available in the Bookstore has the same content. It is cheaper than buying the two separate books.)
   2. Steven Ozment, The Age of Reform: 1250-1550 New Haven: Yale University Press, 1980 (This text is used for both History of Christianity I and II.)
3. Primary Sources Readings: (Available in the Online Reading Room) Links to the documents are embedded in the reading list at the end of this syllabus.

B. REGULAR AND FULL PARTICIPATION IN THE CLASSROOM:

Missing more than three weeks of lectures contravenes Seminary academic policy and may result in the student’s failing the course.

C. ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

1. Four Integration Papers: Each is worth 6%. Total value: 24% of final grade

   Students will be assigned a question on every third Monday: 23 January, 13 February, 5 and 26 March 2012. Their task will be to reflect upon the lecture’s content and upon both Ozment and Gonzalez’s texts. This will include summarizing some key elements of the material, but students will be expected to go beyond mere reiteration. They are encouraged to ponder why the material is significant, both in its own setting and for today. The reflection on current relevance should constitute about one-fifth of the total answer.

   These responses should be roughly 275-300 words in length and must be emailed to the instructor by the Friday of that week. Late submissions will not be accepted. The exception is for students who arrange beforehand because of an expected absence during the course. These students may complete an alternate assignment.

2. Critical Book Review: Due on Monday, 2 April 2012; 12% of final grade

   If you have not taken History of Christianity I, this report needs to be on the Gonzalez text. If you have taken History of Christianity I, review the Ozment text. The review needs to be short, about three or four pages long (ca. 1000 words). This will force you to concentrate more on the ideas than on the details of content. A longer report will change the nature of the resulting review; keep to the assigned length. Marked book reports are not returned with comments.

   As you prepare your review, think about the author’s overall theme. What is his apparent agenda? He has a purpose in writing; identify it and talk about it. How does he order his materials to achieve his purpose? Granted, chronology has a lot to do with it, but there is more going on. How does this book more than simply repeat facts? To answer these questions you will need to include some content, but try to focus on the broad scale issues that he raises.
* Note: Both authors happen to be male. Otherwise use gender-inclusive terms.

3. Two Exegetical Papers: Each is worth 32%; Total value: 64% of final grade Paper #1 will be on either the selected letters of “Afonso, King of the Kongo” or the excerpts from Ignatius Loyola’s “Spiritual Exercises” (i.e. a “Reformation Church” reading):1,600 to 1,800 words.
   Paper #1 is Due: Monday, 6 February 2012; 32% of the final grade.
Paper #2 will be based on either the John Wesley documents or the full set of Charles Finney’s letters (i.e. a “Modern Church” reading):1,600 to 1,800 words.
   Paper #2 is Due: Monday, 9 April 2012; 32% of the final grade.

NB: ALL ASSIGNMENTS WILL BE SUBMITTED ELECTRONICALLY TO THE INSTRUCTOR BY EMAIL: mstein@tyndale.ca

Use only Microsoft Word, OpenOffice or WordPerfect. Do not send .pdf format. Marked papers will be returned electronically, including comments to help you improve future writing. The first major paper should be returned in time for you to incorporate critique into the second major paper. Comments appear both as ‘post-it note’ marginal comments and general comments at the paper’s end.

D. GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR THE SUBMISSION OF WRITTEN WORK

1. Consult carefully both audio and print resources on the course web-page concerning the instructor’s expectations of the quality, content and method of all assignments. The exegetical papers, in particular, have unusual guidelines to follow.

2. Students should consult the current Academic Calendar for academic polices on Academic Honesty, Gender Inclusive Language in Written Assignments, Late Papers and Extensions, Return of Assignments, and Grading System. The Academic Calendar is posted at www.tyndale.ca/registrar/calendar. An excerpt is online.

E. SUMMARY OF ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

Evaluation is based upon the completion of the following assignments
   Each of four weekly integration postings is worth 6% of the final mark: 24%
   Each of two exegetical papers is worth 32% of the final mark: 64%
   The Critical Book review accounts for 11% of the final mark: 12%
