INTRODUCTION TO NEW TESTAMENT EXEGESIS—NT 1023

Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Spring 2013
Professor: Dr. Marion L. Soards

Statement of Purpose and Method

The goal of this course is for students to develop a working knowledge of the methods for exegesis of the NT writings and the use of these methods in reading the books of the NT. Students will study the procedures of interpretation and practice applying them to NT materials. We will examine the methods of exegesis and illustrate the application of these methods to various kinds of New Testament writings. Along the way students will apply the methods to a selected passage of Scripture, first in an isolated/independent fashion and, then, in an integrated way.

The goal of the course is for students to be able to apply the relevant methods of interpretation to any NT text and to prepare an exegesis paper on the passage.

Requirements and Grading

1. Students should prepare all assigned texts in advance of the class sessions in which they will be studied. There will be in-class recitation, wherein we shall read the Greek text aloud, translate into reasonable English (with notes but without access to translations), and explain noteworthy grammatical features. Preparation and participation will count 25% of the total grade.

2. Ms. Angela Morris (in the library) will be offering training in BibleWorks. She has scheduled times that are available for getting this training. She will keep a record of those who attend these sessions and your attendance at the sessions will count for 5% of the total grade. If you have already done this training, simply ask Ms. Morris to mark your name on the list she will keeping as having done the work.

The paper is, first, to be done in installments—a series of short papers of ½ to 1 page in length—as outlined on the syllabus; and, second, the pertinent portions of the installments are to be developed in a reorganized, rewritten, and integrated final form. The various brief papers will count 35% of the total grade. The final paper should be no longer than approximately 3500 words including footnotes or endnotes. This complete final paper will count 35% of the total grade.

N.B. Please plan ahead. There will be no extensions given. A late paper will be marked down the equivalent of one full grade level for each day that it is overdue.

Policy Statements

1. Use of Inclusive Language
   In accordance with seminary policy, students are to use inclusive language in class discussions and in written and oral communication by using language representative of the whole human community in respect to gender, sexual orientation, ethnicity, age, and physical and intellectual capacities. Direct quotations from theological texts and translations of the Bible do not have to be altered to conform to this policy. In your own writing, however, when referring to God, you are encouraged to use a variety of images and metaphors, reflecting the richness of the Bible’s images for God. See for further assistance, http://www.lpts.edu/Academic_Resources/ASC/avoidinggenderbiasinlanguage.asp.

2. Academic Honesty
   All work turned in to the instructors is expected to be the work of the student whose name appears on the assignment. Any borrowing of the ideas or the words of others must be acknowledged by quotation marks (where appropriate) and by citation of author and source. Use of another’s language or ideas from online resources is included in this policy, and must be attributed to author and source of the work being cited. Failure to do so constitutes plagiarism, and may result in failure of the course. Multiple occurrences of plagiarism may result in dismissal from the Seminary. Students unfamiliar with issues relating to academic honesty can find help from the staff in the Academic Support Center. For the Seminary policy, see The Code of Student Conduct, 6.11; the Student Handbook, p. 19.

3. Special Accommodations
   Students requiring accommodations for a documented physical or learning disability should be in contact with the Director of the Academic Support Center (kmapes@lpts.edu) during the first two weeks of a semester and should speak with the instructor as soon as possible to arrange appropriate adjustments. Students with environmental or other sensitivities that may affect their learning are also encouraged to speak with the instructor.

4. Citation Policy
   Citations in your papers should follow the Seminary standard, which is based on these guides:

   Turabian, Kate, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 7th ed. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2007; and

   Copies of these guides are available at the library and in the Academic Support Center.

5. Attendance Policy
   According to the Seminary catalog, students are expected to attend class meetings regularly. In case of illness or emergency, students are asked to notify the instructor of their planned absence from class, either prior to the session or within 24 hours of the class session. Six or more absences (1/4 of the course) may result in a low or failing grade in the course.
