The contents of this syllabus are subject to change until the first day of class.

Catalog Description

This course helps leaders understand biblical stewardship principles as a basis for encouraging Christian generosity. Students will explore the Scriptures alongside theological and professional writings to develop a personal philosophy of stewardship and a resource development plan for an organization or church.

Course Objectives

At the end of this course:

- Learners will be able to articulate stewardship themes from the Scriptures and discuss the implications of those themes for their lives and ministry.
- Learners will exhibit an extensive grasp of biblical stewardship principles by writing a philosophy of biblical stewardship paper.
- Learners will be positioned to encourage Christian generosity in the church context or other ministry organizational settings, locally, nationally or globally.
- Learners will complete a resource development project that demonstrates their ability to use a variety of resources and strategies to help people grow in the grace of giving.

Required Texts

Due ten days after the last day of class – Email: Resource Development Paper

Due ten days after the last day of class – Email: Report of Reading done on schedule

Project #1

Philosophy of Biblical Stewardship Paper

In this paper, you must articulate your philosophy of biblical stewardship that serves as a basis for the practice of Christian generosity. Essentially your job is to demonstrate a grasp of the biblical themes that emerge in the OT, Gospels and Early Church, and describe they relate to your life personally and your practice professionally. As these areas have been largely formed by your family, your church tradition, and more broadly by the culture, the goal here is to explore the Scriptures and declare what you believe. This will shape the rest of your life and leadership.

This paper should be 8-10 pages in length citing Scriptures and saints through the century whose thinking has shaped your own. Additionally, all papers must include a one-page stewardship summary that could be adopted by your church or parachurch organization as a corporate stewardship statement.

Project #2

Resource Development Plan

For this project, you must craft a resource development plan for your actual or a hypothetical church or parachurch ministry setting. Your plan must include the spiritual and strategic work required of leaders who want to do move beyond raising up gifts to raising up givers to be rich toward God. In addition to citing relevant Scriptures, you must cite insights gained from your reading and best practice research as well as pitfalls to avoid in your chosen ministry context.

This project should be 8-10 pages in length. Your plan must include background information, current ministry focus, as well as strategic initiatives, goals and objectives to be implemented. As an alternative to presenting it in paper form, students may create a web-based project, but they will also be required to submit a paper which explains the thinking behind the its development and the plan for implementation, again, explaining the rationale behind it.
