It is invigorating to realize you've been dead wrong about something. That's why we read history. It's an antidote to smug self-righteousness, which makes us insufferable.

- Garrison Keillor

Course Description
Welcome to History II. This course will introduce you to the relatively recent history of Christianity, from the late Middle Ages (beginning around 1500) to the present time. In the last 500 years, Christianity has developed a wide range of expressions, most of which still exist today. This course will help you better understand how these varied traditions took shape and how they, in turn, have shaped modern church and society. Special attention will be given to the particular contexts in which Christian thought and practice have developed.

Course Objectives

Knowing:
- To become familiar with the Church’s stories;
- To analyze the dynamics of a different time and place;
- To understand why things happened as they did (and now are as they are);
- To recognize historical trends (and to identify them when they are repeated).

Doing:
- To interpret the present in light of the past, noting both similarities and differences;
- To articulate aspects of Christian history as they are relevant to particular contemporary contexts;
- To conceive of “the Church” in all its diversity (of time, place, culture, sub-culture, rank, ordination status, ethnicity, race, gender, class, and so on);
- To exercise our abilities to think critically and write clearly.

Being:
- To be a historically literate church leader;
- To critically appreciate the forces that have shaped modern Christianity;
- To be enriched by the stories of those who have gone before;
• To develop broader empathy for people (historical or contemporary) in circumstances that are unfamiliar to us.

Required Texts
• Other required readings and materials will be posted on Moodle or available on the Web.

Optional Texts on Course Reserve
Quick overviews of church history:
• Justo Gonzalez, Church History: An Essential Guide (1996)
• Carter Lindberg, A Brief History of Christianity (2005)
Textbooks of major topics:
• Adrian Hastings, A World History of Christianity (2000)
• Carter Lindberg, The European Reformations (2009)

Assignments & Grading
Weekly Quizzes (20%)
Each week students will take quizzes on the main points of the readings and any other assigned materials via Moodle. There is one quiz per topic; since we usually cover two topics per week, there are normally two quizzes per week. Each quiz contains five multiple choice or true/false questions and must be completed within ten minutes. At the end of the ten minutes, the quiz will be submitted with the answers that have been entered. It is open-book and open-note, but you will not be able to complete it successfully if you have not done the reading before beginning the quiz. Only one attempt is allowed. Quizzes must be completed prior to the class meeting on those topics. Moodle will be programmed to disallow access to the quiz just before class begins. Please plan accordingly. The two lowest quiz scores will be dropped.

Essay #1 (20%)
One 5-7 page essay will be due at 10:00 p.m. on September 27, responding to a question on the Reformation. Details, guidelines and rubrics for all essays will be posted on Moodle. Please see also the Style Sheet posted on Moodle for an overview of citations and other stylistic issues.

Essay #2 (20%)
One 5-7 page essay will be due at 10:00 p.m. on October 25, responding to a question on Early America and Modern Europe.

Essay #3 (20%)
One 5-7 page essay will be due after the semester has ended, at 10.00 p.m. on December 10, responding to a question on Modern America and the Post-modern World.

Participation (20%)
In order to fully engage this course, it is important that you come to class prepared to participate. Please be prepared to offer comments and questions to the discussion each time we meet, that is, to actively participate in our classes so that your classmates can learn from you and you from them. Unexcused absences (that is, those not pre-approved by the professor or due to an emergency) will count against the participation grade. Work or church activities do not count as excused absences, so please plan accordingly. In accordance with the student handbook, students who miss more than two class sessions should not expect to pass the course.

Final grades for the course are determined by the following scale:

Policies and Procedures

1. Late papers and other assignments will be accepted without penalty only in extreme and documented situations, such as a death in the family, lengthy illness, or other emergency. Examples of situations that do not warrant an extension include computer problems, short-term illness, or a pastoral emergency. Please plan your work with time to spare so that an acute emergency does not interfere with submitting it on time. Unexcused late assignments will be docked a full letter grade (i.e., 10 percentage points) for every day they are late. Any portion of a day late counts as a full 10%, so if a paper is due at 11.55 p.m. and you submit it at 12.30 a.m., your grade will be docked by 10 percentage points (e.g. a 90% becomes 80%). Quizzes must be completed according to the weekly schedule as Moodle is programmed to make them unavailable at the due date. Any quizzes not taken on time will receive a score of zero.

2. Regarding plagiarism, please familiarize yourself with Garrett-Evangelical policies as found in the Academic Handbook. It is especially important to make sure you understand what constitutes plagiarism so that you do not inadvertently violate the policy. All written work will undergo an online plagiarism check. A violation of the plagiarism policy will result in a grade of zero for that assignment and disciplinary action in consultation with the Academic Dean.

3. Students with special needs or disabilities that require accommodation should bring this to the attention of the Dean of Students and the Academic Dean, who will make special arrangements at their discretion. Students who have filed satisfactory documentation of a disability in the deans’ offices will then consult with the professor to make appropriate arrangements. Please note that work completed before such paperwork is filed and released to the professor cannot be re-done or re-graded.

4. Please put all cell phones and other devices on silent. Texting, web-surfing and accepting incoming calls are profoundly disrespectful to your classmates and instructors, and are therefore forbidden. You will be asked to leave the class if you are observed doing this.
