RLGN 1001: Theories of Religion

Instructor
Madison Tarleton

Phone
864-421-7485

Email
Madison.tarleton@du.edu

Office Hours
Monday 1-2, & by appointment

Course Overview
This course is intended to introduce students to the academic study of religion. This course will survey influential theorists to the ever-growing field of religious studies. This survey course will read early theorists and anthropologists as well as examine how these theories evolved over time. At the end of this course, students are expected to understand how to evaluate religious theory or religious studies based theory.

Course Objectives
- Introduce students to Religious Studies core theories—past and present.
- Situate each theorist in his (or her) cultural context: time-period, trained discipline, culture observed, etc.
- Teach students how to compare (and contrast) theories from differing schools of thought, discipline, culture, positionality, and time-period
- Learn to study religion through an objective lens that does not assume Christian or Abrahamic similarities
- Perform a thoughtful analysis of the role of religion(s) in a contemporary context

Course Questions
What is religion? What is religious? What role does a supernatural being/god figure have in our understanding of religion? Do faith and belief necessitate religion/religious experiences? What is the role of religion in the academy? What are the origins of religious theory? What is the value of studying religion and understanding religious experiences?

Required Text
Nine Theories of Religion, Daniel Pals

Queer: A Graphic History, Meg-John Barker

Recommended Reference Texts:
Mark C. Taylor, ed. Critical Terms for the Study of Religion

All other course materials will be accessible via university LMS
Technology in the Classroom

I accept and acknowledge that each student has his/her/their own established method for note-taking. However, technology in the classroom does not include web-surfing. Please use the technology you have provided for yourself for note-taking exclusively. Although many of our readings will be available online through our LMS, I prefer that students bring in physical copies of the readings. Cellphones should remain off during class time and should not make an appearance. I understand that emergencies happen, and in an instance that a taking a phone-call is necessary, please do so and inform me after class. If the use of your electronic devices begins to disturb your classmates, me, or become a distraction, I reserve the right to ask that you leave technology at home. Do not lose your privilege!

Assignments

Participation – 20%

• This includes actively engaging in class, active learning, and attendance.

Quizzes – 20%

• Five quizzes will be given at “random.” You will know the class period prior to the quiz. These will cover the readings for the week they are given.
• The quizzes will be a one-page brief reflection of at least two theorists covered that week and their contribution to Religious Studies. I expect to recognize competency with the material, and see that you either understood or wrestled with the material. Some days, you may have more questions than answers and that’s okay.
• The lowest quiz grade will be dropped

Mid-Term – 30%

• The mid-term exam will cover the material up to the exam and nothing past it.
• This will include multiple choice questions, fill in the blank questions, 1-3 short answers, and one essay question of three given to you ahead of time to prepare

Final Exam – 30%

• The final exam will not be cumulative. It will cover everything from the mid-term to the end of the course. The format of the final will look the same as the mid-term.
• This will include multiple choice questions, fill in the blank questions, 1-3 short answers, and one essay question of three given to you ahead of time to prepare
• What makes for a good essay response? Do you take class time to do that?

Attendance and Late Policies

• 20% of your grade rests on active engagement, participation, and attendance. You will be allowed 3 absences without penalty. I do not need to know where you are for these first three. After 3, I need to see documented proof that you could not be in class. I will need to know ahead of time what any absences after three are if not for an illness. You will not be penalized for an absence for religious reasons. After 5 absences, I will ask that you withdraw from the course.

• If you miss a quiz because you were absent, you will not be allowed to make that quiz up unless you can produce a doctor’s note. Late arrivals will not be allowed to make-up quizzes. Points will be deducted from your participation grade if you leave early or before class is slated to end.

• All policies have exceptions. Please visit my office hours if you feel that these policies are unfair to you.

Disability Accommodation
If you have, or think you may have, a documented disability (physical, learning, psychiatric, visual, hearing, etc.) please visit the Center for Disability Services. The Center can provide you with the information and documentation necessary to arrange accommodations you may require. If you have a disability accommodation, please discuss this with me after class or during office hours for us to make arrangements.
COURSE SCHEDULE

Week 1: Making the Familiar Strange and the Strange Familiar

Week 2: Religion and Magic

Week 3: Psychology and Religion

Monday: William James, Lectures 1, 2, 4, from Varieties of Religious Experience, & Sigmund Freud, The Future of an Illusion, selected readings

Wednesday: J. Samuel Preuss, “Psychogenic Theory: Sigmund Freud,” & Daniel Pals, Ch. 2 & 6, “Religion and Personality, Sigmund Freud,” “The Verdict of Religious Experience, William James” from Nine Theories of Religion

Week 4: Sociology and Religion

Monday: Emile Durkheim, selected readings from Elementary Forms of Religious Life & “Religious Sentiment at the Present Time,” & Ivan Strenski, “Durkheim, Emile”

Wednesday: Daniel Pals, Nine Theories of Religion, Ch. 3 “Society as Sacred, Emile Durkheim”

Week 5: Anthropology and Religion

Monday: Clifford Geertz, “Thick Description,” from Interpretation of Cultures

Wednesday: Pals, Nine Theories of Religion, Ch. 9 “Religion as Cultural System, Clifford Geertz”
Week 6: Society and Religion

Monday: Karl Marx, selected readings from Critique of Hegel’s Philosophy of Right & Immanuel Kant, selected readings from Religion within the Boundaries of Pure Reason

Wednesday: Daniel Pals, Nine Theories of Religion, Ch. 4 & 5 “Religion as Alienation, Karl Marx,” “A Source of Social Action, Max Weber”

---

Week 7: Religion and the Sacred

Wednesday: MID-TERM EXAM

---

Week 8: Material Religion

Monday: Movie: Kumaré (find the trailer here)

Wednesday: Robert Orsi, Introduction and Ch. 1 from History and Presence

---

Week 9: Religion & Media

Monday: Kathryn Lofton, “Can’t Help Lovin’: David Chidester’s Pop Culture Colonialism,” from Journal for the Study of Religion & “Sacrificing Britney: Celebrity and Religion in America” & “The Celebration of Religion in the Age of Infotainment” from Consuming Religion

Wednesday: David Morgan, “Image” from Key Words in Religion, Media, and Culture

---

Week 10: Queering Religion/Queer Theory

Monday: Kent L. Brintall, “Queer Studies and Religion” & Meg-John Barker, Queer: A Graphic History (first half)

Wednesday: Afshere Jama, selected readings from Queer Jihad: LGBT Muslims on Coming Out, Activism, and Faith & Meg-John Barker, Queer: A Graphic History (second half)
Week 11: Feminist and Womanist Theory/ and Religion

Monday: Judith Butler, selected readings from Bodies that Matter, and Teresa J. Hornsby, “The Annoying Woman: Biblical Scholarship After Judith Butler” from Bodily Citations: Religion and Judith Butler

Wednesday: Nikki Young, selected readings from Black Queer Ethics, Family, and Philosophical Imagination

Week 12: Embodied and Performative Religion/Experiences

Monday: Karen Trimble Alliaume, “Disturbingly Catholic: Thinking the Inordinate Body” from Bodily Citations: Religion and Judith Butler

Wednesday: Saba Mahmood, “Agency, Performativity, and the Feminist Subject” from Bodily Citations: Religion and Judith Butler

Week 13: Decolonizing Religious Studies

Wednesday: Anne McClintock, selected readings from Imperial Leather: Race, Gender, and Sexuality in the Colonial Contest

Week 14: What do we think now?

Monday: Review: What have we learned?

Please bring questions to class or comments about things that you have learned, or notions about religion that have changed over the course of the semester

Wednesday: Final Exam